Building Character Acting Classes are designed for students who have an interest in the performing arts as well as for students who want to try something new and "outside the box." In a non-competitive, exciting atmosphere the students will have a blast while they learn acting skills which will enhance their self-esteem and confidence. They will also work on concentration, communication skills, eye contact, interview techniques, projection, and memorization...all of which can be helpful on-stage and in the classroom!

Artist Director Whitney Christopher King is a professional Actor/Director/Producer/Writer and has been teaching acting for over 20 years!!

Classes include: improvisation, scene study, character development, mime, interview and audition techniques.

Class at McCleskey Middle School:

Tuesdays: Feb 17th – May 12th

4:15-5:15
